

Please consider very carefully the notion of allowing telcos forbearance from regulation. It would be cruelly injurious to the market and the citizenry of my area, who would be left with a monopoly as their DSL provider, and be forced to forsake their chosen provider and go to strong-armed dictator. There's no excuse for such a thing. It is what we look to your agency to protect us from.